HUMAN SETTLEMENT ISSUES IN BRITISH COLUMBIA 1968-1978

A Selected Bibliography

Centre for Human Settlements

1978

PREFACE

The Centre for Human Settlements was established at the time that the United Nations Conference on Human Settlements, Habitat '76, met in Vancouver. The Centre's mandate includes substantive bibliographic work on settlement issues in Canada and in particular British Columbia.

The citations that comprise this bibliography are grouped under selected headings designed to reflect the multi-faceted and interdisciplinary nature of the study of human settlements. This list of available monographs, government documents, journal articles and audio-visual presentations is presented as part of the publications programme of the Centre for Human Settlements.

The bibliography is selective in time and area covered, but attempts to be comprehensive in its scope. It brings together and relates readily accessible publications that deal with the many separate elements affecting settlements in British Columbia during the last decade.

The substantive work for the publication was the responsibility of Brian Pulham, Audio-Visual Librarian of the Centre, who is deeply grateful for the professional advice and help of Melva Dwyer, Head, Fine Arts, Architecture and Planning Division and her colleague Peggy Wroblewski. We also acknowledge the valuable assistance of a group of Vancouver Community College library technicians in assembling the bibliographic entries.

It is hoped that this bibliography, published in the series of occasional papers, will assist scholars and professionals in building upon settlement literature in British Columbia in their continuing search for better solutions to a wide range of settlement issues.
